Message from the Chief Executive Officer

The Australian Research Council (ARC) is committed to the Australian Public Service (APS) Values and Code of Conduct. In delivering policy and programs that advance Australian research, the ARC aims to provide the highest quality service to the organisations and individuals with which we interact.

The ARC values the importance of maintaining strong and valued relationships with our clients. We welcome feedback on all aspects of our service delivery and we are committed to using such feedback as a means of improving our services.

This Charter sets out the standards of service delivery that clients can expect from the ARC and provides guidance on the process they can follow if they are dissatisfied with the level of service provided.

Professor Aidan Byrne
Chief Executive Officer

<td>Our mission</td>
<td>To deliver policy and programs that advance Australian research and innovation globally and benefit the community.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Our role</td>
<td>The ARC is a statutory authority within the Australian Government’s, Education portfolio. The ARC is responsible for: The National Competitive Grants Program (NCGP); the Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) initiative; and providing policy advice on research matters to the Australian Government.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Our clients</td>
<td>The primary ARC stakeholders are: the Australian Government; institutions and researchers within the higher education sector; and various partner organisations. Other stakeholders include: the Australian public; peak bodies with an interest in research; research funding agencies; publicly funded research agencies; business and industry groups; and the media. Note: While individual researchers prepare proposals for submission under the NCGP, our client is the administering organisation (the applicant). Therefore, individual researchers should direct their enquiries to their administering organisation in the first instance.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Our values and guiding principles</td>
<td>ARC staff conduct their duties in accordance with the Australian Public Service Values and Code of Conduct (see Attachment A). The ARC is guided by a strong commitment to the following principles: Excellence in programme and policy delivery to support excellence in research; Engagement with and responsiveness to all stakeholders to support relevant programme and policy development; Benefit to the community through economic and social return on investment informed decision making, and efficient operations; and Accountability through transparent, efficient and effective processes and adherence to ethical standards.</td>

Our service standards

The Australian Public Service (APS) is professional, objective, innovative and efficient, and works collaboratively to achieve the best results for the Australian community and the Government (extract from the APS values).

The ARC aims to meet the following standards in service delivery.

Communication
In our dealings with you, we will be courteous; treat you fairly and professionally; provide timely advice that is clear, concise, accurate and complete; and keep any confidential information provided to us as in confidence, except where disclosure is required by law.

If you phone us, we will:
- answer phone calls promptly during normal business hours and identify ourselves; and
- aim to resolve your enquiry during the call or if we can’t, take your details and arrange for the appropriate person to return your call as soon as possible.

If you write to us, we will:
- for simple requests, aim to respond to you within 10 working days; or
- for more complex enquiries, aim to respond within 20 working days.

If there is a delay in responding, we will inform you of the time needed to provide a response and give you contact details if you have further enquiries.

Administration of the National Competitive Grants Program (NCGP)
In delivering services relating to the NCGP, we will:
- make available on our website accurate advice and information about our funding schemes;
- promote equitable access to our schemes and services;
- act fairly, in accordance with our published guidelines, criteria, regulations or legislation; and
- when reviewing funding schemes consult widely and provide reasonable timeframes for consultation with interested parties.

Administration of the Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) initiative
In delivering services relating to the ERA initiative, we will:
- make available on our website accurate advice and information about the initiative;
- act fairly, in accordance with our published guidelines; and
- when reviewing ERA policy and processes, consult widely and provide reasonable timeframes for consultation.
Policy advice
When developing policy advice, we will:
- consult with appropriate parties to ensure the views of all stakeholders are properly considered;
- ensure policy decisions are evidence-based;
- provide a reasonable timeframe for comments; and
- provide information about our decision.

Online services
In delivering online services, we will aim to have the ARC website (www.arc.gov.au) accessible at least 98 percent of the time. There may be times when it is not accessible due to technical upgrades or scheduled maintenance. The ARC will endeavour to keep ‘down times’ to a minimum.

Privacy
We will respect the confidentiality of your personal information and use it only in accordance with the law. We will give you access to your personal information if you request it.

<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>- treat our staff with courtesy and respect;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>- provide us with timely, complete and accurate information;</td>
</tr>
<tr>

Your feedback
On this Charter
We welcome your feedback on this Charter. We will regularly review this document to ensure it remains relevant and accurate. Feedback can be provided in person, by phone, by email or by mail. Appropriate contact details are provided within the ‘Contact Us’ section of this Charter.

Compliments and suggestions
We also welcome feedback on the quality, timeliness and responsiveness of our services. We would be pleased to know if you are happy with our service or if you have ideas on how we could improve our service to you. You can give us this feedback by:
- contacting an ARC staff member;
- emailing the ARC: info@arc.gov.au (general), ncgp@arc.gov.au (NCGP), and era@arc.gov.au (ERA); or
- writing to us.
Complaints
We also accept that issues and problems may arise and that you may have a complaint about the ARC.
Your complaint may be about the standard of services provided by the ARC and/or the diligence, competency, behaviour or attitude of ARC staff.

Step 1: Please talk to us first – If you have a complaint about our service, you should initially speak with the staff member you have been dealing with to discuss the problem.

Step 2: Contact the Complaints Handling Officer – If the complaint has still not been resolved, submit a General Complaints Form (available on the ARC website) to the ARC by letter or email (complaints@arc.gov.au) addressing your correspondence to the Complaints Handling Officer. The complaint is now a formal complaint.

We will acknowledge receipt of formal complaints within 10 working days and respond within 30 working days. If this is not possible you will be given an explanation for the delay.

Further information on the ARC complaints handling process is available on the ARC website.

Whether or not you lodge a formal complaint with us, you may wish to:
● contact the Commonwealth Ombudsman if you are dissatisfied at any time with our handling of your complaint;
● make a complaint to the Privacy Commission if at any time you consider that we have breached your privacy;
● contact the Australian Information Commissioner if you are dissatisfied with our handling of your Freedom of Information (FOI) request; and/or
● submit an application under the Scheme for Compensation for Detriment caused by Defective Administration if you consider that you have suffered detriment as a result of our administrative procedures or advice.

Contact details for these organisations are provided within the “Other contacts” section of this Charter.

Measuring our performance

Against the Charter

All formal complaints will be notified to the ARC Complaints Handling Officer. As part of our commitment to service improvement, the ARC has established a central register for recording and monitoring progress of formal complaints.

We measure and monitor our performance against our Service Charter by:
● recording and acting on your feedback and complaints about our service;
● regularly reviewing the terms and effectiveness of the Charter; and
● reporting on our client service performance in our Annual report.

As a minimum the ARC will review its Charter every three years.

Australian Public Service Values

Impartial
The APS is apolitical and provides the Government with advice that is frank, honest, timely and based on the best available evidence.

Committed to service
The APS is professional, objective, innovative and efficient, and works collaboratively to achieve the best results for the Australian community and the Government.

Accountable
The APS is open and accountable to the Australian community under the law and within the framework of Ministerial responsibility.

Respectful
The APS respects all people, including their rights and their heritage.

Ethical
The APS demonstrates leadership, is trustworthy, and acts with integrity, in all that it does.

Australian Public Service Code of Conduct
The Code of Conduct requires that an APS employee must:

- behave honestly and with integrity in connection with APS employment;
- act with care and diligence in connection with APS employment;
- when acting in connection with APS employment, treat everyone with respect and courtesy, and without harassment;
- when acting in connection with APS employment, comply with all applicable Australian laws;
- comply with any lawful and reasonable direction given by someone in the employee's Agency who has authority to give the direction;
- maintain appropriate confidentiality about dealings that the employee has with any Minister or Minister's member of staff;
- disclose, and take reasonable steps to avoid, any conflict of interest (real or apparent) in connection with APS employment;
- use Commonwealth resources in a proper manner;
- not provide false or misleading information in response to a request for information that is made for official purposes in connection with the employee's APS employment;
- not make improper use of:
  - inside information, or
  - the employee's duties, status, power or authority, in order to gain, or seek to gain, a benefit or advantage for the employee or for any other person;
- at all times behave in a way that upholds the APS Values and Employment Principles, and the integrity and good reputation of the employee's Agency and the APS;
- while on duty overseas, at all times behave in a way that upholds the good reputation of Australia; and
- comply with any other conduct requirement that is prescribed by the regulations.
